2025 Feng Shui Guide to Prosperity

Opportunities & Challenges

Snakes evoke fear, but in many cultures, they are also symbols of positive significance. This duality may become a defining characteristic of markets this year. On one hand, we are entering a period of unprecedented geopolitical uncertainty, where the traditional rules-based order is shifting towards a transactional and bilateral world.

On the other hand, advancements in technologies such as AI, green energy, and electric mobility are presenting exciting opportunities. The ASEAN region is particularly well-positioned to benefit from these trends while providing some protection against uncertainties.

ASEAN-6 GDP is expected to grow at a healthy rate of +4.7% in 2025 and 2026, with falling inflation and recovering domestic consumption. Amid the risks of an escalating US-China trade war, we anticipate a shift of supply chains from North Asia to ASEAN. Additionally, following several elections last year, political and policy stability in the region has set the stage for an infrastructure boom, including data centres that are capitalizing on the AI wave. Intra-regional trade is also poised for growth, bolstered by rising tourism and closer integration through major initiatives like the Johor-Singapore Special Economic Zone and a regional renewable energy grid. As a significant trading partner with China, fiscal stimulus efforts there could have beneficial spill-over effects.

As these themes unfold this year, we expect sectors such as banking, real estate, construction, REITs, energy, telecommunications, and internet to present new opportunities.

As you navigate these uncertain yet exciting times, please know that Maybank Investment Banking Group is here to support you on your investment journey. Our award-winning advisory, research, and trading platforms are designed to empower you to make impactful decisions. May the Year of the Wood Snake bring you great fortune, profitable trades, and boundless success!

Welcome to the Year of the WOOD SNAKE

In 2025, three in four of the elements are Yin in nature. This year is symbolized by two characters – Yin Wood sitting on Yin Fire, resulting in a supporting relationship and a direction for clarity and results. Yin Wood is portrayed as gentle, moderate, flexible and adaptable. Expect 2025 to be female-driven in direction, ideas and strategy. Diplomacy is skin deep, but comes with resentment and possible political deception. Yin Wood by nature needs to cling onto strong structures to thrive and we can expect collaborations, compromises and, also, disgruntlement.

The year's dominating energy is the Sickness Star and we can expect a wave of pandemics originating from central parts of China, Middle East and Africa. However, we are more prepared to handle these threat.

The Snake, as a traveling star, accentuates movement and travels. Due to the unique negative impact that results in Fire, we can also expect fire-related incidents such as flash fires, forest fires, volcanic eruptions and haze. 2025 being the first of the fire luck season will be succeeded by the strong Horse in 2025 and the Goat in 2026. Fire is symbolic of optimism, hope, economic drive and growth. Stocks, equities and finance are in sterling position and Southeast Asia will be a big beneficiary of this strength. Prosperity returns to the East and so, a significant part of Asia will ride a wave of success.

Offends

Fear of responsibilities & burdens that make you careless, indulgent & feeling lost

Destroys

Partners, build up and destroys that results in self-sabotage, accident and hurt

Clashes

Impatient, tries too hard leads to rash decisions, low energy and being a scam victim

Fire Industries

Rapid Growth Markets Peak in 2026

Sector Winners

Equities

Insurance

Startups

Healthcare

Energy

Fire drives economic activities, business sentiments and general consumer confidence. Between January and September, Fire is in its most healthy state. Boosted by excess of Wood means there are ready resources and capital to move around. All these indicators point to an impressive start to the year. Companies will report solid earnings, and this will drive the markets to new heights.

Southeast Asia will be a big beneficiary of fresh funds flowing into investments, stocks, equities, mergers, acquisitions and of course, new startups. Insurance will be the highlight as a silent, but giant performer in 2025. Should stability return to Russia and agreements in the Middle East are enforced, the overall world economy will be in great stride to ride the next three years.

Fire is also the element associated with exploration and discovery. Thus, space travel and breakthroughs in science, technology and medicine will bring spectacular results.

As this is the first of three successive Fire years, the excitement and exuberance must be controlled. Fire is known to rage out of control when overconfidence grip. Fire, being the wealth element, means that the financial market must brace for a momentary blip in its advance when the Water sweeps us from October.

Wood Industries

Keep Within the Rules

Sector Winners

New Economy

Data Analytics

Education

Fund Management / Family Office

Online Media

The unique nature of the Wood element in 2025 is different from the last. Being Yin in nature brings out subtleness, grace, beauty and details. The year also shows that Wood is extremely demonstrative and is attached to the female figure. Yin Wood appears in all pillars of this year's chart suggesting the power and force of female dominance in policies, strategies and directions. Females are the real bosses in the Year of the Snake.

Wood is associated with growth whereby it is extremely flexible and adaptable. So, expect directions and intentions to change according to the conditions that favour the moment. Industries include education, new economy, fund management and family offices. Wood is rooted in the months and plays significant roles in the first three quarters of the year. Businesses supporting intelligence and research work belong to Wood.

There is an equal polarity in this element that suggests a balance of direct efforts in search of results as there are in the ability to enjoy the benefits. The strong quality in Wood also indicates a streak of control, politics, non-partisan loyalty and the affiliation towards easy goals and fast results. As an element of abundance in this year, alliances and collaborations will take place, but with care and caution.

Water Industries

Intense Competition

Sector Winners

Tourism and MICE

Airlines

Cruise Ops

Theme Parks

Supply Chains

Water is well represented in the year resulting healthy growth in travels and tourism. Supplementary businesses such as freight, transport, hospitality, wellness, air travels, cruise operations and theme parks will thrive in 2025. The MICE sector will be busy and the industries surrounding them will also enjoy spill-over effects.

Water supports Wood which means that the more widespread in partnerships these businesses go, the bigger and better the opportunities. The key word in tourism and travels is transformation and change. Rapid changes, identical to the Water element, bring surprises and will be well received. The relationship of Water leading to Fire which is the wealth element of the year is evidence that consumers are willing to part with their money in search of quality.

Towards the third quarter, businesses related to Water will need another round of transformation as it gets diluted by an uncontrollable event, likely health-related, that will put the brakes on its exponential growth and profits. As the year goes on, customer loyalty is weak in these businesses and to manage the fickleness of clients, they must cooperate and innovate new products and upsize to surprise travelers. Tourism and travel are here to stay, but to extract the value out of visitors' spending, the players must adopt to technology and artificial intelligence.

Earth Industries

Sector Winners

Real Estate

Construction

Data Centres

Agriculture

Human Resources

Softness in 2025 Gains Momentum in 2026/2027

The Earth element in the Year of the Snake is hidden. We, therefore, must not expect this band of industries to be out in the spotlight. Having said this, it is fully supported by the wealth element of Fire. If wealth is being fed into the Earth industry, one can also look forward to more discerning and quality inflows.

Real estate, construction, data centres, urban agriculture and human resources come under this category. While lower interest rates may spur borrowing and a shift towards assets like properties, the Year of the Snake indicates it as a hidden element. The reason primarily stems from the rapid growth over the past few years and the market has gone into fatigue over this asset class.

As it stands, real estate remains a good-class asset not just in developing economies. Demographics, migration and demand for good infrastructure and stability will continue to account for growing demand. Supplementary businesses in construction and data centres will also see growth and profits. Moreover, the next three years support Earth industries and the momentum will return in fast fashion. Represented as an influence star, the fundamentals and interpretation of real estate as an investment will hold at least for the next 15 years, given the Fire element in Period 9.

Metal Industries

Under Pressure Innovations Needed

Sector Winners

Luxury Brands

Precious Metals

Crypto

Mining

Automotive

Being the weakest element in 2025, the Metal industry will come under pressure, but maintain its value and relevance in riding the wave of robust economic performance. Metal includes precious metals like gold, platinum and silver, as well as crypto currencies. Luxury brands and automotive are grouped under this element as well.

Being the weakest and most hidden, scarcity inflicts a wicked ecosystem on these industries. On one hand, the scarcity should drive up demand. On the other hand, the same fate also turns consumer attention to other alternatives. However, the market is still enjoying sustainability due to liquidity and innovation of premium products.

In a broader market sense, innovations, upgrades and incentives will make up for the slowdown in supply chains. This year, success comes from the ability to unearth and manage resources. As Metal is scarce and hidden, the need to discover and control the source of supplies is paramount to the success of these businesses. Metal comes into prominence between August and October and markets will fluctuate more towards the year-end. It may be challenging for commodity traders and the key is to time it well. Trends and historical statistics are not as useful as new frontiers and discoveries are needed for results.

RAT

Another spectacular year awaits the Rats with the Emperor Star shining your way. This is the one for policymakers, influencers, market leaders, content creators and anyone who wishes to make things happen their way. Your charisma naturally brings out confidence and charm. To maximize this you should be seen in the right places. Besides, your sidekick, the Dragon Virtue acts not only as a nobleman to you but a precise and effective executioner of your grand plans. Dragon Virtue makes you a formidable force - one who formulates, strategizes, views the big picture and then makes things happen. When all fall into the right places, the Jade Hall Star, a well-earned wealth manifests, and you shall be rewarded financially and rise in stardom. Plan well and you will find that luck will approach you to collaborate on serious and meaningful projects. Success comes at a price and for Rats, expect envy and jealousy.

Dark Sky casts a misleading pall over your plans and actions. They usually come from misinformation and moles planted in your work that trigger sinister false alarms. It often slows you down and forces you to evaluate your decisions, causing a waste of time and resources. You must also protect your image and identity.

While you ride on your success, be prepared for sudden shocks and uncontrollable situations that can derail your plans. This may be a policy-driven regulation, but more than likely, they are mistakes made out of distractions.

A unique talent star comes your way. The Elegant Seal brings out the artistic and demonstrative powers in you this year. First, what you say will likely resonate. Then what you express in written form such as literary works and social media will get you followers. Finally, even if you are not in the artistic field, what you showcase, organize and present will be appreciated and compensated.

However, you need to keep a clear mind and level head in dealing with the challenges ahead. Drapes Star is one that creates a sense of obligation in you. Do what you can and do not feel too bad about not fulfilling every request. Sky Cry brings frequent bouts of sadness and helplessness. This affects females and those who are going through bad patches. Counter it by being in the company of people who are optimistic and active.

Meanwhile, the Yellow Flag misleads you to less desirable outcomes. This often happens when you are vulnerable and unhappy. Do not be affected by comparing yourself with others. Finally, the White Tiger symbolizes fierce and swift attacks against your morale and personal safety. So be watchful against those who band against your work, creativity and business. It could be a competitor at work, a business rival or what we label as a vile character, one who takes pleasure in making life difficult for others. Also, be wary of physical harm involving sharp metallic objects.

TIGER

A year of exponential growth and progress awaits the Tigers this year. With the powerful backing of the Heavenly Virtue, you can speed up to achieve your goals in 2025. In addition, this is the Noblemen Star, which is failure-proof and protects you from sabotage from competitors or anyone who tries to steal the limelight from you.

Additionally, Fortune Virtue offers you lucky breaks and the right connections for bigger collaborations. This leads to bigger-than-expected results and so, you must keep an open mind towards others approaching you for partnership. On your own, you will be limited by your resources and to tap the maximum potentials of Fortune Virtue, go for the big guys and leverage on their own merits and size.

On the side, your fortune will also get a boost from the Prosperity Star which offers financial help. June and October will be great months to hope for some windfalls. Six Harms is a spell that makes you unappreciated for the good work and charity you do for others. Do not expect returns from helping others. Curled Tongue is misinformation and wrong signals from others, do not be presumptuous. Robbery Star deals with identity loss and scams, including financial losses due to official mistakes that result in penalties.

RABBIT

There is aggressive growth and honour for all Rabbits in the Year of the Snake. Of course, there is a need for diligence, focus, and honesty. Rabbits should take this year as one for consolidation and forward strategies. Although there are no significant stars in your favour, the Thrive Star is powerful enough to drive lots of optimism by offering you choices for work. With this star, you need to contribute to society however you can.

There are several negative energies to deal with. First, the Sky Dog is a sign of accountability for all areas of life. This means that for all you have done in the past few years, consequences will surface. Financially, be ready for some kind of repayment. In relationships you may be forced to take a position or lose it. When you are traveling, take note that the Calamity Star can give you problems that are physical, such as witnessing fires, serious haze, fog, and earth movements. Additionally, you may also encounter immigration, customs, and other official checks.

Suspended Guest suggests accidents by hanging or loose ropes and a threat to the health of the elderly around you. Finally, be aware that there are negative influences of offenders who are trying to rope you into some illegal schemes. Avoid breaking rules, stay on the side of the law, and work hard and you will turn out well.

DRAGON

A year of celebrations, good news, and revelry. The Sky Happiness activates what we term the Yang energies of happiness created by people around you. This star overrides lots of unpleasantness and it is this balance of Yin and Yang that makes it such a positive year for Dragons. It may be a personal victory, an achievement, a promotion, or even a validation of your work. Extended to those around you, your team could emerge as winners in competitions and your children may be graduating with colours. Some may get married, or a new member will be introduced to the family. Heavenly Officer is also a positive energy that offers you fair judgment and even protection all year round. This means that if you are working within official boundaries, there is no fear of stagnation, breakdown, or backtracking on agreements.

Surpassing Path is there to remind you that while you are on the quest for new frontiers, break new grounds, stay grounded, and do not lose focus. Annual Killing Star often relates to environmental challenges and in 2025, Dragons must be alert to threats of inhalation issues, flash fires, and traffic accidents. Sickness Charm gives you a false sense of security about your health, and poor physical habits. Stay in shape and go for check-ups often. While the Lonesome Star affects females more, it can bring to all Dragons a feeling of being left out, passed over at the workplace, missing out on opportunities, and emotionally unhappy about not being included.

While Snakes are 'in offense' against the Grand Duke, you are presented with the duality of the Duke Arrival Star. With this star, you are given a choice to handle the year well. Take up responsibilities, fulfil your duties, and work towards defined targets. Handle well, and your results by August will be spectacular.

Eight Seats means you are entitled to exclusive circles. This is a chance for you to be admitted to groups of high-net-worth or industry movers waiting to hear your opinions. If all goes well, it will lead to Golden Carriage, meaning you will move to places where recognition and financial rewards await you. It could mean a trip to receive accolades. While the first half of the year may not be smooth sailing, there is Relief God to solve issues, while Sky Relief vastly reduces seemingly impossible problems. The hidden corpse is a revelation of secrets and resurfacing of past problems, while the Instability Star casts unnecessary doubts and worries. Remove obstructions one at a time and do not let imagination add to the burden before problems arise. Politics and identity attacks are expected with the Back Poking Star, do not be ruffled by enemies. There is a need to protect your safety and avoid potential dangers from injuries and cuts, surgeries from fire and physical accidents involving traffic or high-intensity activities due to Sword Edge and Blood Knife. Earth Killing Star means you need expert advice on decisions involving investments, assets, and properties.

The incredible energies of the Sun Star dissolve many issues. Moreover, this is the one star that is outright, timely, and visible. In 2025, you can resolve many things that have eluded your actions due to their enormity or out of fear of failure.

A past secret, an old health problem, and a bad relationship now await your courage and strength to put right with the Sun Star. With the Peach Blossom in your favour, this year attracts lots of attention and admiration for you. Singles have lots of chances of finding partners and getting married. However, those who abuse this privilege will end up with the Salty Pool which brings scandals and personal problems. The Intelligence Star makes you yearn for knowledge and intelligence.

Your curiosity peaks and you can convert this into a new skill for the future. Cascading Cloud brain fogs you into dreamy states and causes female heartaches. The Year Killing Star makes you insistent, stubborn, and illogical. Put these together and you will end up with terrible decisions that can ruin an otherwise promising year. At work and in business, beware of the effects of Bad Qi, which makes work sluggish without the motivation nor the quality results. Be realistic and do not make big promises as Sky Emptiness will be just a bubble of hope for you to hang on without the results.

If you have the clarity and ability to see beyond problems, then the Year of the Snake may prove to be rewarding. The Bright Hall Star gives you vision, an analytical mind, and a non-vested interest in other people's business. There may be a handful of hindrances in your way, but if you maintain an unbiased view of things, you can simply evade the problems and walk away better than many others endowed with better stars. Leopard Tail makes you sound offensive and abrupt. Think before you speak, especially online. Flying Chaste appears as an attack and threat to your work and business. It can also be policy matters that affect you more than others.

You will need to be current to keep up with real-time affairs and keep within official borders. Goats must maintain their cool as the Great Killing turns you speculative and forces you to take chances. Repeatedly this can lead you to bolder speculation and turn into gambling, which can lead to heavy losses. This frustration may stem from repetitive problems recurring month after month causing confusion and draining of resources. Funeral Door will only act up if there are elderly and ill who grab your attention. In serious cases, expect the effect of the Separating Edge, which means the end of things.

It is a unique situation between the Monkey and the Snake Year. First, there is a combination, known as the Duke or Year combination, resulting in the element Fire. Then comes destruction and self-punishment that can lead to a lot of confusion. Monkeys in 2025 must be level-headed and protect one's interests first.

Five Prosperity provides all the essentials for personal wellbeing, work, income, relationships, and health. Sky Fortune works wonders when you are in any tight situation. Then comes the Moon Star, another nobleman star that solves issues with great care and consideration. It may also involve a female help that you cannot refuse and therein lies the problem if the Red Chamber gets involved. Monkeys must observe proper decorum when dealing with females this year. The Year Combination attracts people in high places and influences.

The Death God portrays you as an ungracious person who forgets his past benefactors. Great Assembly attracts you to places of unlawful and riotous crowds. Because of your good fortune, Hook Spirit overpromises and the Piercing Rope puts you into tight situations. Beware of your commitments.

A year of leadership, natural confidence, and courage to carry out what you envision as the right thing to do for the common good of all. That's what the tough commander General Star is directing. The Golden Lock is a monetising star that can happen only when an action is applied to an opportunity. The key to the Golden Lock is dedicated hard work to get something done and be consistent & unwavering.

With the Three Stages Star, Roosters can expect upward mobility in their careers, while business owners can do well with expansion. Three Stages is a gradual step to the top, which comes with financial rewards and a title to go with it. Earth Relief makes you grounded and realistic. It humanizes you as you behave like a leader. This is a very important quality to possess if you wish to achieve your results with the blessings of followers. Earth Relief also enhances your assets and real estate-related values and ventures. Any decision about property is likely to be profitable and meaningful.

In contrast, you will have to cope with selfish and bothersome individuals this year, and Officer Charm adds to the headaches of checks and audits. The Broken Star says a lot about breakdowns in communications, supply chains, hardware, and malware that attack your systems and if the damage is serious, it may lead to long-term losses and control.

The Red Matchmaker gets you the relationships you wish for. Especially good for singles, this star also joins hands with people who link by affection and respect. As a relationship star, expect activities in March and June.

Pummelled Saddle is a traveling energy that compels you to venture out and have the chance for exploration. Even for those who do not see opportunities to travel for work, you should expect expanded roles and added responsibilities that will shape your career this year. It is a transformative star and the more movements there are in life, the better the prospects. Travel when you can, even for leisure. A busy and promising year will come with differences and changes, and it is the job of the Monthly Virtue to take care of your recurring stoppages and disruptions to your routines. Do not be ruffled by minor setbacks and keep optimism burning.

In 2025, Dogs must be ready for things to come to an end. Viewed positively, this can be managed well. Embrace the changes and look forward to new environments, company, friends, experiences, and journeys. This is the work of the Death God. Yin Killing draws you to dark and unconventional habits. Usually involving females, it can get you into a lot of inconveniences such as a commitment to a promise. Females themselves must be alert to feminine issues and emotional instability. Finally, a Small Consumer turns you into a habitual spender in small volumes, but repeated enough to cause you trouble financially.

2025 will be a year of travels, explorations, and movements. The Sky Horse Star ensures that you are moved around, and you must prepare to spot the opportunities that come along. This is a benevolent star that draws you to the right places and you must be ready to face up to some discomfort.

If last year has been hectic for you, then the Snake Year is likely to bring some relief. Sky Emptiness removes redundancy and reduces responsibilities. This frees up a lot of resources and time for you to channel your energies to good use. This star also consistently solves recurring issues in financial management and family matters. Year Breaker puts you on the path to prove yourself and this creates pressures and stresses on your work performance. Try and take it slow, do not allow that big goal to demoralize you.

Frustrations can build up from the Hurdle Star that brings with it unfair competition and regulations stacked against you. Expect and be ready for this in May. Pigs should not over-commit and take on too heavy responsibilities as the Peeling Head Star adds to worries, overthinking, and imagination. As the economy gears up, you should not be swept away by general sentiments. For example, do not jump into the stocks simply because you do not want to be left out. Nor should you commit to buying a new property or car rashly because the big purchase can become a long-term burden.
